General Notice

Ethical Hacking and Countermeasures course mission is to educate, introduce and demonstrate hacking tools for penetration testing purposes only. You will not use the newly acquired skills for illegal or malicious attacks and you will not use such tools in an attempt to compromise any computer system, and to indemnify EC-Council and its partners with respect to the use or misuse of these tools, regardless of intent.

EC-Council provides the hacking skills and tools used in the CEH classroom for educational use. The hacking tools are not authored by EC-Council, and in many cases are submitted by the security community. While every reasonable effort is made to ensure that these programs do what is claimed, EC-Council will not be held accountable for any damage or distress caused by the proper or improper usage of these materials, and makes no guarantee in regards to their operation or suitability for any specific purpose.

The hacking tools used in the CEH training program are meant for Research and Educational Purposes only. The primary intent of these tools is to provide the user with hard to find content for Research or Self Education relevant to network security and various protection methods and their intrinsic flaws by demonstrating exploit methods and techniques used to circumvent them. We hope that you are better aware of the danger that lurk out in society today and learn how to protect yourself with the knowledge you are about to learn. In continuing you must accept that you are going to use this information only for Educational and Research purposes only.

While possession of information or programs included on this training violates no laws, actually using or implementing some of the programs or content may violate Federal Law. For this reason the user is instructed not to use any of the programs or content on this training which may violate any Laws or infringe on the Copyright protection of others. We provide them for educational purposes only.
